Ma 9
ria Maria

The first staff of music is written in a treble clef with a common time signature (C). It contains a series of rapid sixteenth-note passages. The word 'Ma' is written below the first few notes, and 'ria Maria' is written below the final notes. A small number '9' is written above the staff towards the right end.

Below the first staff, there are seven more staves of music. The notation is very faint and difficult to read, appearing as light ink marks on the paper. It seems to be a continuation of the musical piece, possibly for a different instrument or voice part.

This image shows a page of handwritten musical notation on aged, yellowed paper. The page contains six horizontal staves, each with five lines. The notation is written in dark ink and consists of various note heads, stems, and beams, typical of a musical score. The handwriting is somewhat cursive and the ink is slightly faded. There are several small dark spots and smudges scattered across the page, particularly on the second and third staves. The paper has a slightly irregular, torn edge on the left side.

Handwritten musical notation on a five-line staff, including a clef and various note values.

A handwritten musical score on five staves. The notation includes various note values, rests, and dynamic markings. The word "da" is written above several measures. The number "43" appears as a measure or section marker on multiple staves. The first staff begins with a treble clef, a key signature of one sharp (F#), and a 2/4 time signature. The second staff has a treble clef and a 2/4 time signature. The third staff has a bass clef and a 2/4 time signature. The fourth and fifth staves have treble clefs and a 2/4 time signature. The score concludes with a large, stylized signature in the bottom right corner.
