Handwritten musical notation on ten staves. The notation is mostly illegible due to fading and the condition of the paper. The staves are arranged vertically down the page.

The image shows ten horizontal musical staves, each consisting of five parallel lines. The staves are arranged vertically down the page. The paper is aged and yellowed, with significant damage to the right edge, including a large tear and several smaller holes. There is no musical notation or text on the staves.
