that an explosion will take place; if the room be darkened, the light will be seen upon its surface; continuing some time after the explosion. If chalk be used, it will also retain the light after the explosion, which will be of a different colour.

The Electrical Kiss.

A lady may challenge any gentleman, not acquainted with the experiment, that he will not be able to kiss her, although she may incline to meet him. If he accepts the challenge, and the machine turn while they are inclining their heads to kiss each other, provided their clothes do not touch before their lips meet, a spark of fire will fly from the lady to the gentleman, which will be sure to make him draw back, without accomplishing his design.

The Miraculous Luminaries.

You must previously prepare the following phosphorus: Calcine common oyster-shells, by burning them in the fire for half an hour; then reduce them to powder; of the clearest of which take three parts, and of flowers of sulphur one part; put the mixture into a crucible, about an inch and a half deep. Let it burn in a strong fire for rather better than an hour; and when it is cool, turn it out and break it in pieces;
