Jommelli, Niccolò: Più che nei popoli: A-Dur

urn:nbn:de:bsz:31-114651

Handwritten musical notation on two staves. The top staff contains a melodic line with various note values, including eighth and sixteenth notes, and rests. The bottom staff contains a bass line with similar note values and rests.

Handwritten musical notation on a single staff. The notation includes a treble clef, a key signature of two sharps (F# and C#), and a time signature of 10/4. The text "Da Capo" and "Del Sig. Jomelli." is written in cursive across the staff.

Handwritten musical notation on ten staves. The first staff is marked "Alto." and begins with a treble clef, a key signature of two sharps (F# and C#), and a time signature of 10/4. The notation is dense, featuring many sixteenth and thirty-second notes, often beamed together. The piece concludes with a double bar line and a decorative flourish.

This image shows a page of handwritten musical notation, likely a manuscript. The page is numbered '4' in the top left corner. It contains ten staves of music, each beginning with a treble clef and a key signature of two sharps (F# and C#). The notation includes a variety of note values, rests, and dynamic markings. The paper is aged and shows some staining and wear, particularly at the bottom edge. The handwriting is in dark ink, and the overall style is characteristic of 18th or 19th-century musical manuscripts. The music appears to be a single melodic line, possibly for a violin or flute. There are some specific markings, such as 'iii' above a note on the eighth staff, which might indicate a third ending or a specific fingering. The staves are connected by a vertical line on the right side, and the notation is dense and fills most of the page.
