Magnificat

The musical score is written on ten staves. The first staff begins with the title "Magnificat" in a large, flowing cursive script. The notation includes various rhythmic values, including eighth and sixteenth notes, and rests. There are several dynamic markings: "f." (forte) appears on the first staff, and "ib." (ibidem) is written above the fourth staff. The tempo marking "allegro" is written above the fourth and seventh staves. There are also some numerical annotations, such as "2" and "ii.", which likely refer to measures or sections. The paper shows signs of age, with some staining and a slightly uneven texture.

Salve

A handwritten musical score for a piece titled "Salve". The score is written on ten staves, each beginning with a treble clef and a common time signature (C). The music is composed of various rhythmic patterns, including eighth and sixteenth notes, and rests. Dynamic markings such as "forte" (f), "piano" (p), and "pianissimo" (pp) are interspersed throughout the score. Performance instructions include "allgro" (allegro) and "pianissimo". The score concludes with a double bar line and the number "70." written below the final staff. The paper shows signs of age, with some staining and a slightly irregular edge.

This image shows a single page of aged, yellowed musical manuscript paper. The paper is oriented vertically and features 25 horizontal staves. The staves are mostly empty, with some very faint, illegible markings scattered across them. The paper shows signs of wear, including foxing and staining, particularly near the bottom edge. The left edge of the paper is slightly irregular, suggesting it was part of a bound volume. The overall appearance is that of an old, unused page from a music manuscript book.
