A. Havel

Handwritten text in a cursive script, likely a historical document or manuscript. The text is dense and covers most of the page. It appears to be a list or a series of entries, possibly related to a collection or inventory. The handwriting is somewhat faded and difficult to decipher in many places. There are some numbers and dates visible, such as '13 2' and '21'. The text is written in a dark ink on aged, yellowish paper.

Handwritten text in a cursive script, likely a manuscript or ledger. The text is dense and covers most of the page. It appears to be a list or account, possibly related to a church or a specific institution, given the mention of "Kloster" (monastery) and "Klosterkirche" (monastery church). The text is written in a dark ink on aged, slightly yellowed paper. There are some corrections and additions throughout the text, indicated by small marks and overlapping lines. The handwriting is very fluid and characteristic of the 17th or 18th century. The text is organized into several paragraphs, with some lines starting with capital letters that might indicate the beginning of new entries or sections. The overall appearance is that of a well-used historical document.
